The Windmill's Turning

Refrain: -

The windmill's turning
My heart is yearning
In dreams I'm bringing to you
Love's sweet refrain
Church bells are ringing
The birds are singing
And in my heart, dear
I know we'll meet again.

Versus

I know a spot where first we met,
'Twas by an old mill stream,
It was a place I can't forget,
Where once we used to dream.
I found her in the twilight there,
In days that used to be,
I see the sun shine in her hair,
It brings a memory

Where shadows fall I still recall,
Each hour of happiness,
When by the mill my heart stood still
When you first whispered 'Yes!"
Then with a sigh, we said 'Goodbye!"
To romance that we knew,
But spring will bring me back again,
To our old rendezvous.
